Description
This class is for young movers (with a caregiver) who want to build coordination and confidence through playful, structured movement. Kids will practice foundational skills like walking, climbing, sliding, and jumping with feet together, while developing hand-eye coordination through simple throwing and catching games using scarves and balls. Classes introduce easy routines—waiting for a turn, following directions, and moving through a simple obstacle course—while building spatial awareness (forward/backward movement, turning, and navigating space).
